

DHOW CRUISE

While cruising down the Dubai Creek or Dubai Marina, a dhow cruise is a lovely and relaxing experience that lets you take in the stunning views of Dubai's skyline and landmarks. As of my most recent edit in September 2021, the following is a general description of a dhow cruise:

Depending on the cruise package you select, you may be picked up from your hotel or have to travel to the specified departure location. Since the cruise usually departs in the evening, you may take advantage of the city's lights and milder weather.

A wonderfully decorated traditional wooden dhow, a type of sailing ship used in Arabia, is available for you to board. These dhows have been comfortably modernized while keeping their vintage character.

In Dubai, there are two primary dhow cruise routes:

Dubai Creek: Take a cruise down the Dubai Creek to discover the city's historic core. Views of the busy shoreline, customary souks, and famous structures like the Dubai Creek Golf & Yacht Club are available.

Dubai Marina: If you choose to take a boat through the marina, you'll be treated to breathtaking vistas of contemporary skyscrapers, sumptuous yachts, and the energetic marina culture.

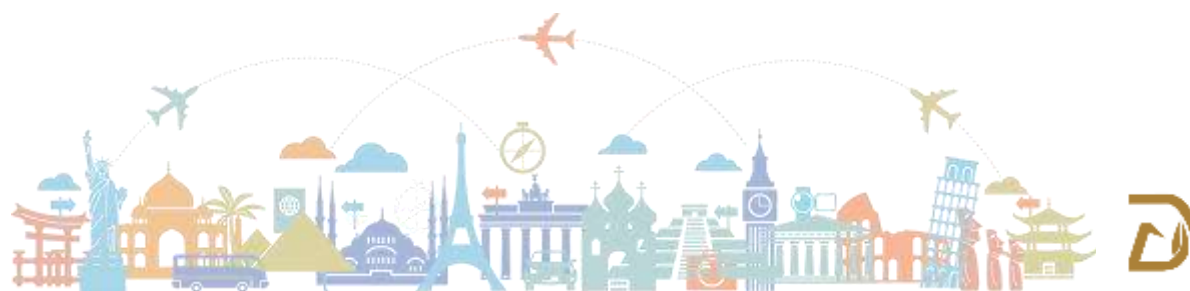

Scenic Views: As you cruise along the water, you'll have the chance to observe the city skyline, lit monuments, and the nearby canals from a wide angle.

Culinary Delights: Most dhow cruises serve a delicious buffet dinner with a selection of delicacies from around the world and the local cuisine. Enjoy a delectable buffet of starters, entrées, desserts, and refreshing drinks.

Live Performances: While you dine, you'll be delighted by a variety of live performances, such as tanoura (whirling dervish) dances that highlight the region's cultural heritage and traditional music and dancing.

Many dhows feature open-air upper decks with seating where you can unwind, take in the breeze, and take beautiful pictures of the lit-up metropolis. Lower decks typically have air conditioning, making for a relaxing dining experience.

Romantic Ambiance: Couples looking for a romantic evening frequently choose dhow cruises because of the calm ambiance, sparkling city lights, and soothing lapping of the water.

TRAVEL AND TOURISM

Birthdays, anniversaries, and family get-togethers are just a few examples of special occasions that dhow cruises may be a lovely way to celebrate. For these occasions, several cruise lines may make customized arrangements.
